Developing Campus Infrastructure Through Partnerships

Specifically tailored to the needs of higher education institutions, the P3 Higher Education Summit focuses on tools available to campus planners as they plan and procure student housing, classrooms, laboratories, parking, stadium and sport facilities, energy projects, and more.

The program showcases upcoming projects and RFP opportunities, while also presenting best practices in traditional and alternative project delivery. The Summit, now in its 9th year, provides key networking opportunities for university and college representatives, developers, owners, and industry partners.

THE P3 GOVERNMENT CONFERENCE

DECEMBER 5-6, 2024
WASHINGTON, DC

Location: The Westin

Website: p3gov.com

CALL FOR ABSTRACTS

DEADLINE: July 26, 2024

Developing Public Infrastructure Through Partnerships

IIJA and IRA, along with numerous other federal programs and grants, have driven an influx of capital available to communities across America. The P3 Government Conference examines how public agencies can leverage private sector capital to stretch their federal funding even further.

With over 400 public and industry leaders attending, the audience represents a broad range of communities and projects from across the U.S. Attendees learn about new projects in the market and meet with other public and industry leaders facing similar development challenges who are seeking expertise and new partnerships.

Benefits of Sponsoring & Exhibiting

As a sponsor/exhibitor, you will gain visibility and multiple opportunities over the course of the two days to promote your company’s brand, products and services directly to the industry. With limited opportunities available, this is your chance to uniquely position your company to the market, gaining the competitive edge to other industry players.

- + Demonstrate thought leadership and enhance your brand image. The benefits to be gained from aligning your organization with this high profile event are substantial—from boosting market awareness to generating high quality sales leads.
- + Reach the largest and most qualified audience of senior hospital administrators and industry leaders. The Healthcare Project Delivery Conference attracts the largest number of qualified prospects, all available at one space at one time, thereby maximizing your marketing investment.
- + Capture qualified leads throughout the event. Excellent lead generating opportunity with low cost and effective reach.
- + The Conferences have an UNMATCHED PROGRAM you can’t find anywhere else. Leading practitioners will present on the most pressing industry challenges and provide first-hand observations and best practices. Your organization will be associated with high quality content, placing your company at the forefront of industry thought leadership.
